

ANSD

Australian Network for Spiritual Direction Inc

For people engaged in Godly Listening . . .

Following legal advice, the practice of listing names of available spiritual directors and supervisors through the ANSD website is under review. Taking into account our current context and the findings of the Royal Commission, ANSD needs to take all reasonable precautions to try to ensure best practice and to reduce the risk of legal liability.

There will be a new application process for spiritual directors and supervisors who would like to be considered for listing on the new ANSD website. When this is finalised, all members of ANSD will be notified.

Your understanding and patience is appreciated.

Thankyou.
